Facility Policy | Allergic Reaction Response

Policy number: CH-09

Applies to: all care staff

WARNING SIGNS

A new rash or hives, swelling of the face, lips, tongue or throat, trouble breathing or wheezing, dizziness or fainting, or vomiting soon after a new medication or food.

CALL 911 WHEN

There is any swelling of the face, lips, tongue or throat, any trouble breathing or swallowing, the resident faints, or they are getting worse quickly.

FIRST STEPS

1. Call the nurse on duty immediately.
2. Stay with the resident. Keep them sitting up if breathing is difficult, or lying down if they feel faint.
3. Do not give any food, drink or medication unless the nurse or the dispatcher says so.
4. If the resident has a prescribed adrenaline auto-injector, the nurse or trained staff use it as set out in the resident's care plan.

AFTERWARDS

Record the time, the signs, and anything new the resident ate or took in the last 24 hours. Keep the allergy list and medication list ready for the responders. Complete an incident report before the end of the shift.
